

6th Annual LATI Summer Institute

Oh, the Places You'll Go... with AT!!

July 28-30, 2010
Southeastern State University
Hammond, Louisiana

You have curriculum in your head. You have tools you can use. You'll meet friendly people, as many as you choose. You'll look up and down the program, look it over with care. About some you'll say I choose to go there. With your curriculum in your head and your hands full of tools, only sessions that apply to you are the ones you will choose. You should mark your calendar now for three days in July, as the time before then is quickly to fly by. Oh the places you'll go when the conference time comes, there'll be new strategies to learn and door prizes to be won. The magical things you can do when you return to your school will have you jumping for joy when your students walk in the room.

Registration Opens Monday, April 19, 2010 at 8:00 a.m.
